

Television programming is much too violent and graphic, and restrictions should be imposed on the airing of such programming.